ANCIENT GREEK COINS.

Warranted to be genuine.

514 Judaea. Copper coin, struck and circulating during the lifetime of Christ. Issued by the Procurator Coponius, A. D. 6–10. Illustrated Madden, p. 136. Weight 30 grains. Good.

515 Another, exactly like above, but weighing 36 grains.

These coppers are, in this country, generally catalogued and sold as the Lepton or Widow's Mite, mentioned in the Scriptures. They are, however, in fact Double Leptons, (value of two lepta,) the Lepton averaging in weight from 20 to 15 grains, and being, probably, not issued after 40 B. C. (See Madden, p. 301, 302.) The Mint Cabinet, Philadelphia has on on exhibition a copper coin "found among the rubbish of the Temple grounds." On one side "nothing is discernible;" on the other something "like the letter X with a line crossing it near the top." It cannot be said "whether it is Samaritan, or Syriac or Greek"; it weighs but 10 grains, it is a coin, was found at Jerusalem, and therefore it is "the real Lepton!" so at least declares W. E. D., (see his article, "The Widow's Mite," in the October number of the American Journal of Numismatics, and compare my paper, printed in pamphlet form, "On the Falsifications of Ancient Coins,") and he feels greatly aggrieved at my criticisms. These criticisms have, however, not yet been fatal to me; they have rather been approved by all honest and thoughtful numismatists, while it is not strange that they have aroused feeling on the part of several Mint officials. W. E. D. does not say that he has submitted this coin to such experts as Madden, or Cohen, and that they declared it a Jewish coin, circulating at the time of Christ, and a real Lepton. He ought to know that many a coin is found among the rubbish at Jerusalem and other places, without proving anything as to the character or genuineness of the coin. As to the assertion that the Lepton was "too minute to bear a show of devices and inscriptions," W. E. D. has probably never seen and seems to be altogether ignorant of the beautiful minute bronze coins of Erythrae in Ionia, and others. There exist some which are indeed only three-tenths of an inch in diameter, and weigh but 10 grains. Perhaps, if such a coin were sent to W. E. D. as found at Jerusalem among some rubbish, corroded and illegible, he would proclaim it a true Mite too!

516 Judaea. Copper of Claudius Felix, Procurator, A. D. 54. Double Lepton. With family name of Agrippina II. Illustrated Madden, p. 152. Good, scarce.

517 Double Lepton of same, with names of Britannicus and Nero as Caesars. Struck A. D. 54. Good, rare.
